

Jordan's Principle

Ensuring First Nations children receive the public services they need when they need them

The BC Hub is hosted by: In Partnership with: Friendship House Association

My name is Lisa Stewart and I am writing to introduce myself as the Jordan's Principle Service Coordinator in the Northern Region, also to let you know how I can support you and your child to access health, social and education supports, including Jordan's Principle funding.

Jordan's Principle is named in memory of Jordan River Anderson, a young boy from Norway House Cree Nation in Manitoba. Jordan's Principle makes sure all First Nations children living in Canada have access to the products, services and supports they need, when they need them. To support families, Indigenous Services Canada (ISC) BC Region has been working with First Nations partners to develop and implement a made-in-BC Jordan's Principle Enhanced Service Coordination model of care that puts First Nations children and families at the center of service delivery.

As a Jordan's Principle Service Coordinator, I can work with you to identify and facilitate timely access to a range of federal and provincial health, social, and education products services and supports to meet your child's needs. Plus, I can address questions about Jordan's Principle and assist you to submit requests for funding under Jordan's Principle on their behalf. To be eligible, children must be between the ages of 0-19 years of age.

Further information about Jordan's Principle, including eligibility and how to submit a request can be found at this link:

I will primarily work with families in the following communities within the Northern Region: Prince Rupert/Port Edward, Metlakatla, Laxkw'alaams, Kitkatla, Hartley Bay, Klemtu, Kitselas, Kitsumkalum, Gitlaxt'aamiks, Gingolx, Laxgalt'sap and Gitwinksihlkw. However, First Nations families anywhere in BC are welcome to connect with me. Below is my contact information.
